L.A.C.E. History

Lacemakers and Collectors Exchange (L.A.C.E.) held its first meeting in September 1990, and its first lace day the following month. Annual lace days followed until 1995, when the reorganization of the guild took place:

1. Bylaws were re-written to conform to the rules of International Old Lacers Inc.
2. Roberts Rules of Order was acknowledged as the Parliamentary Authority.
3. A copy of the original charter was issued, confirming L.A.C.E. as a chartered group with continuous history from 1992.

Monthly meetings, lace fairs, vendor days, lace exhibits, member-taught workshops and special-event workshops taught by expert teachers from outside our area characterize the guild's activities. Publications include a quarterly newsletter and a website.

L. A. C. E. is....

Lacemakers and Collectors Exchange is a non-profit organization for all those who are delighted by the many facets of lace. Our goal is to promote interest in the study, history, collections and instruction in the making of all varieties of lace. L.A.C.E. is a charter chapter of International Organization of Lace, Inc.

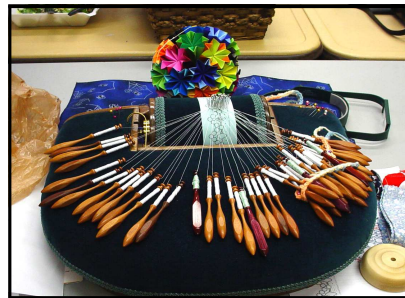

Meetings are held at the library in Clarendon Hills, Il. Members come from Northern Illinois, Indiana and Iowa.

A few of our members have many years' experience in lacemaking. Others are beginners. Still others are intermediate in their skills. As a member you have the opportunity to learn and improve your skills quickly.

The first half of the meeting is a business session; followed by lunch. The second half is devoted to learning and practicing programs where we focus on lace-making techniques. Occasionally it is a lecture or a field trip to a special lace exhibition.

A well-dressed bobbin lace pillow is a lovely sight to behold.

While bobbin lace is the predominant lace made in our guild...there are many types of lace. This is not a conclusive listing.

- Battenberg Lace
- Bobbin Lace
- Carrickmacross Lace
- Crocheted Lace
- Hairpin Lace
- Hardanger Lace
- Knitted Lace
- Knotted Lace
- Machine Lace
- Needlelace
- Netted Lace
- Tatted Lace
- Tenerife Lace

We would love to have you join us!
